HUMBLE APPEAL-THREE YEARS OF THE RUSSIA - UKRAINE WAR

As we mark three years of the devastating conflict between Russia and Ukraine, it is time to reflect on the immense loss of life, destruction of property, and the deep scars left on both nations. War brings nothing but pain, division, and suffering-where there was once unity, now lies bitterness; where there was once prosperity, now lies ruin.

To the leaders and people of Russia and Ukraine, history will not remember who won the battles, but rather who had the courage to stop the war. True victory lies not in conquest but in peace, in rebuilding what has been lost, and in ensuring that future generations inherit a land of hope rather than hostility. It is time to seek reconciliation, to replace weapons with words, and to move forward as nations that coexist rather than collide. To the international community, political leaders, and religious figures-your voices hold power. The world must not be a silent spectator to destruction. It is your responsibility to mediate, facilitate dialogue, and support every sincere effort toward peace. War anywhere is a tragedy for humanity everywhere. The resources spent on war should be redirected toward healing, reconstruction, and securing a future where no child has to wake up to the sound of bombs.

Let this be a call to conscience: Enough blood has been shed, enough homes have been destroyed, enough families have been torn apart. Let wisdom prevail over pride, and let peace be the only path forward.
